

Fireside Session

A special Solstice evening of poems, stories and music at Treloan, hosted by Mac Dunlop, with special guests:

Rob Barratt -The Bard of Bodmin

London poet - Danielle Allen

and local novelist - Harriet Hopkinson

Tuesday June 21st , 7pm onwards

'Arthur's Field' Treloan Coastal Holidays, Gerrans

Barbeque - bring and share (food/drink)

any enquiries, please contact Debs at Treloan, tel: 01872 580989

email: info@treloancoastalholidays.co.uk

ROB BARRATT

The Bard of Bodmin returns with his rhythmic tales of sitting next to the toilet on trains, love stories, alphabets and the occasional boob job.

HARRIET HOPKINSON

Harriet's third novel 'Next to Me' explores the psychological impact of violent crime on an ordinary family, following them as they battle to keep going, and piece their lives back together.

DANIELLE ALLEN

"I try to bring a bit of rhythm to my words. I think it's important for people to not only hear poetry, but to feel it too."

www.caravanserai.info

discovering what's on our doorstep

www.treloancoastalholidays.co.uk